

SERVER PORTION

1. The server form sends the product to the controller.
2. The server controller adds the product to its product database.
3. The server controller creates a message containing the product's name and the fact that that it is a product. The message should be serialized using JSON
4. The server controller sends the serialized message to the client using websockets

CLIENT PORTION

5. The client controller recieves the message from the server
6. The client controller deserializes the message and confirms message type
7. The client controller creates a product list with the new product included
8. The client controller replaces its old product list with the new product list
9. The client form recognizes the change in the list using an event listener
10. The client form asks for the new content